

Principia® News February 2013

Presentation and Education Updates for 2013

New in 2013 is the addition of the Dividend Investing presentation to Principia's Presentations and Education module. This presentation details the benefits of dividend investing, which could be especially important to yield-starved investors. The presentation covers historical performance and a look at the current yield landscape, while also examining income returns during economic downturns and periods of high inflation. To learn more, call 866 608-9571.

Take Advantage of the Early-Bird Discount for Upcoming Morningstar Events

There's still time to get an early-registration discount for the 2013 Morningstar Investment Conference and Advisor User Forum on June 12–14. The Advisor User Forum kicks off the events on the morning of June 12 at our Chicago headquarters; it's an exclusive day for Principia, Advisor Workstation, and Morningstar Office clients to interact with our analysts and product teams. It's also an opportunity for you to network, share best practices, and provide direct feedback about what we should focus on to help add value to your Morningstar subscription. Immediately following the Advisor User Forum is the Morningstar Investment Conference at McCormick Place in Chicago. The conference brings the financial community's top minds together to discuss news, strategies, and tactics for investment professionals. Register by March 15 to get an early-bird discount—call 866 839-9729.

Best regards,

Karen Hogue
Principia Product Manager
Morningstar, Inc.